

Service Verification

Total Activity Control now supports service verification using Videx® buttons and PulseStar™ pocket reader wands.

This feature provides on-site, unit service verification, and offers the following benefits:

- Proof positive that the driver stood in the unit
- Great for large contracts needing pay-per-service tracking
- Driver can self-monitor to make sure all units serviced
- Wands have a battery, if it runs out the data will not be lost
- Total Activity Control reads date, site, customer, driver and unit
- Reports and email verification for customers

Buttons are assigned to units by serial number, and are placed on units for easy access by the driver. Docking stations read the data and integrate with Total Activity Control.
